The Voice of Authority

HEADMASTER JOHN M. MAHONEY

FAREWELL ADDRESS

It is our sincere hope that upon the completion of your secondary education you have acquired certain concepts, skills and behaviors. Primarily, you must understand that as an individual in the United States you live in a free and open society. This social process has as its principal ideal the recognition of the dignity and the worth of each individual. Our system necessitates your understanding certain responsibilities, skills and behaviors; you must cultivate the love of truth and justice, actively participate in political, economic and social life, demonstrate loyalty, economic efficiency, creativity and inventiveness, reverence, and concern for the welfare of others. In addition, it is vital that you develop your intellectual capabilities to reach decisions based upon critical thinking as well as the willingness to act consistently with the conclusions reached.

We trust that you have been imbued with these concepts, skills and behaviors during your public schooling in Brockton. Many of these attributes will be tested and strengthened, in the years to come, through further education, vocational occupation and home making.

On the eve of your graduation, on behalf of the faculty and the underclassmen, I extend sincere congratulations and every best wish for a pleasant, constructive and successful future.
